Curling Arena Site Now Levelled Off; Curlers About Ready to Start on Concrete Foundation

'Cat Took Three Days to Level Site; Plan on Demolishing Old Curling Arena This Week.

The first major step in the construction of Coleman's new curling arena was undertaken last week when Sam Sagoff's 'cat levelled the site. Tree stumps were removed and material taken from the side of the hill to build up portions of the site in order that all parts conformed to the same height.

Andy Dow and his men are now preparing to mix and pour concrete. Concrete blocks will be laid at regular intervals around the site and upon them will rest the huge building. The lumber salvaged from the old livery barn will be brought to the site this week.

It is planned to start tearing down the old curling arena within the next few days. President Dow fully expects to salvage at least 90% of the lumber in the old arena.

Aided by Harry Boulton a gang of curlers plan on going into the forest soon to cut timber suitable for girders to support the roof.

Now that actual construction is underway an urgent appeal to all curlers to come and lend a hand is sent out by President Dow. By having many helpers they can be placed in gangs and construction can be accomplished in a short time.

Precision Squad Attracts Large Crowds

Gave Two Demonstrations of Drill and P.T. on Friday Afternoon; Paraded with Air Cadets Saturday Morning.

The crack Precision Squad from the CWAC basic training centre at Vermillion arrived in town on Friday and gave two demonstrations of drill and physical training in the school ground at 4 and 7 p.m.

Large crowds lined the school yard at both demonstrations and the girls gave sterling performances under the direction of Sergeant Major Instructor Fred Purkis. The Physical Training, under the direction of Sgt. Jean Finch, was quite interesting and the building of pyramids brought forth much applause.

Prior to each demonstration the girls marched in a body, led by two local air cadet drummers, through the main street. Major Gahner, of M.D. 13, spoke briefly at the conclusion of each demonstration.

On Friday evening a capacity audience gathered in the Community hall to see the battle of Britain Film along with other war films. Following the showing many ladies from the Pass towns gathered in the I.O.O.F. hall where tea was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the B.E.S.L. and the members of the CWAC.

On Saturday morning at 11 o'clock the precision squad, and local Air Cadet Corps, led by the Cadet bugle band, marched through main street and were watched by a fairly large number of citizens.

2/Lieut. Helen McKay, of the CWAC recruiting office at Headquarters, M.D. 13 in Calgary, will arrive in Coleman, Friday, to enlist girls for the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Accompanied by Junior Commander Mollie Sharland, who recently arrived from Britain with a group of Auxiliary Territorial Service officers, Miss McKay will be at the Grand Union Hotel all day Friday to answer any questions pertaining to the CWAC.

Mrs. Dine DeMartin, of Windsor, Ontario, is visiting relatives at Blairmore and Coleman. She will leave shortly to reside at Edmonton where her husband, Petty Officer DeMartin, is stationed.

New Concrete Sidewalk to be Laid on Main Street From Zak's to Community Hall

Calgary Brewing Co. Interested in Few Lots Being Vacated by Curling Club; Council Backing Henry Claes for Taxi Service.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Monday evening. Present, Mayor Antrobus, Councilors Cox, Dutil, Jenkins, Lowe and Ramsay.

A complaint was received from a resident on Second street protesting against youngsters in that district playing with matches. Her home was set on fire last Saturday afternoon and only quick work with a garden hose saved the property. Constable Anle was authorized to stop this dangerous practice.

H. Houghton, on behalf of the local air cadet corps, asked council's co-operation in getting the sports field back into shape for the major inspection of the air cadets by provincial officers on June 8. At the present time the field is being seeded to grass. He was assured that the field would be in shape for June 8.

J. Atkinson was present to ask council that its 1944 works program includes the improvement of the street in front of his Fifth street home. To do this will require the services of a 'cat and council has made arrangements with Sam Sagoff to have his 'cat grade the street in front of the Atkinson residence. Suitable surface material will then be placed on the roadway.

Mr. H. Vernon, of the Calgary Brewing Co., was present to deal with the question of lots now being vacated by the Curling club. He stated that his company was interested in the purchase of some of the lots to take care of the Grand Union hotel sewage system. He had been in contact with Provincial Sanitary Engineer Menzies who will provide Mr. Vernon with a plan to take care of the hotel's sewage system and which may require the purchase of the lots. He asked if council would be prepared to sell his company the lots if needed and he was assured it would. In the meantime the hotel will rectify the present antiseptic tank trouble. A few complaints had been received from citizens close-by the present outlet. Engineer Menzies will visit Coleman late in July or early in August.

Pressure from the road on Seventh street is causing damage to Mrs. L. Fauville's fence. Works and Property committee will inspect it.

The Andros case is now being dealt with by the Child's Welfare Dept. according to a letter received from Edmonton.

A letter was received from the Transit supervisor, Edmonton, in regard to a taxi service in Coleman. Council is supporting Henry Claes and the school board is endeavoring to get the Coleman license for Mr. Claes. The latter has been given a temporary license for two weeks to transport school children to and from Sem. School. Mayor Antrobus and Chairman George Evans were given authority to deal with any correspondence relating to this subject as they saw fit.

A letter was received from Joe and Martin Simla asking that they be made exempt from 1944 ash fee as their ashes were needed to build up their lot. Request was refused.

An advertisement was authorized placed in The Journal to sell the vacant lot east of the Frank Abousaffy store. In sending tenders for the lot information as to the kind of structure to built is also to be stated.

The drinking water supply still remains pure.

Discussion was made regarding the placing of cattle on the C.N.P. Forest Reserve. A letter will be sent the Dept. of Health asking that the cattle be not pastured near local drinking water supplies. Mr. H. Boulton will be sent a copy of the letter.

Council will ask solicitor Banman for a detailed statement on the Lycka account.

Mayor Antrobus was visited by two officers of the CWAC on Saturday morning and told that the hospitality received by the Precision Squad surpassed that received from any other Alberta town.

It was agreed that the Works and Property committee secure Sagoff's 'cat to widen the roadway alongside the tennis courts.

Council was contacted for the use of the Excer Builder's concrete mixer in order to lay a new sidewalk from Zak's store to the Community hall. The old sidewalk will be ripped up. Work is expected to get underway in about two weeks.

A part of the sidewalk near the M. Stigler residence will be repaired. Two signs will be painted warning that no parking of large trucks will be allowed on main street. The light delivery trucks used by merchants are excepted.

The cesspool to be dug near the J. Rushton residence for drainage purposes will be taken care of during the summer.

Improvement to the road surface on Second street, West Coleman, will be made.

A fence will be constructed from the rail fence at the bluff in west Coleman and will run to the Siska residence.

Councillors Ramsay and Lowe were appointed as council representatives on the Sports Association.

Mother of Mrs. J. R. Hague Died on Saturday

The death occurred at Lethbridge on Saturday of Mrs. Frances Harriet Knowlden, 78, mother of Mrs. J. R. Hague, formerly of Coleman and now of Innisfail. She was born on Feb. 13, 1876, at Teynham, Kent, England, and came to the city in 1908. She had been a member of St. Mary's Anglican church. Her husband passed away on Nov. 11, 1933.

May Give Recital

FREDA ANTROBUS

Arrangements are underway between Freda Antrobus, L.T.C. M., and the Lions club to have Freda give a recital in the Community hall on Wednesday, June 21. Unless something unforeseen occurs it is very probable that Freda will be in Coleman to give the recital.

Sgt. Roland Marchant Killed in Italy

Was in the Canadian Advance Against Germans Guarding Rome; Husband of Former Jean Upton, of Blairmore.

The sympathy of her many Coleman friends is extended to Mrs. Jean Marchant (nee Miss Jean Upton) upon the loss of her husband, Sgt. Roland B. Marchant, killed on the Italian front on May 15 while taking part in the Canadian advance against the Germans guarding the Italian capital. Official word of his death was received by Mrs. Marchant on Friday.

He was born at La Riviere, Man. He married Miss Jean Upton in June, 1940. In February, 1941, he enlisted with the army and went overseas in June of that year.

It was only last week that he was featured in a Canadian press story from the Italian battle front for the fine work done by him and his tank crew in the Canadian advance.

PYTHIAN SISTERS NOTES
The Pythian Sisters of Coleman held a social evening on Wednesday, May 24, in honor of Mothers' Day, it being their nearest meeting to Mothers' Day.

Each member invited two ladies who were mothers, if they did not have a mother of their own. What was played, prizes being won by Mrs. L. A. Caroe and Mrs. R. Gillies. After a few well chosen words from Most Excellent Chief Nora Leithwaite, everyone sat down to a knife-and-fork supper served by the younger members of the Temple.

The older members of the Temple were given a carnation.

"I learned to be a good housewife. Six of us lived, slept, read and studied in a room 12 feet by 12. We learned to cook what rations we had on the stove, to keep the place tidy so it would be bearable.

It was Sqdn. Ldr. Foss Boulton, D.F.C., son of Harry Boulton of Coleman, one of Southern Alberta's famous war aces, who spoke. He was chatting with Margaret Ecker, Canadian Press staff writer at Belfast, Ireland, after the repatriation liner "Gripholm" had docked. The ship had borne Foss Boulton and 47 other Canadian sick and wounded prisoners of war and many repatriated Allied civilians from Germany. All but 11 of the Canadians remained aboard to make the trans-Atlantic trip with the Americans. There were 900 in all on the "Gripholm."

Margaret Ecker interviewed a number of the Canadians including Foss Boulton. She said: "Much decorated Sqdn. Ldr. Foss Boulton could have talked. You could tell from the hints he dropped of his adventures since his fighting plane was shot down over France about a year ago. Briefly Boulton wanted to talk about his fiancée, Sheila Devine, who is a nurse in St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver. Foss had a tough time but he's broad and healthy again now. "Sure I lost weight in Germany but the Gripholm food put me back on my feet again."

Editor's Note: Foss was shot down over France on May 13, 1943, almost a year to the day that he was repatriated. He spent some months in a German hospital before being confined to a German prison camp. A wire received by his parents stated he was in England and feeling fine and that he expected to see them within a few weeks.

Air Vice-Marshal G.R. Howsam to Inspect Local Air Cadets

The annual inspection of the local Air Cadet Corps will be held on Thursday, June 8, at 8 p.m. The ceremony will be held at the sports field, where the public will be admitted on an excellent view of the proceedings.

Air Vice-Marshal Howsam, Air Officer Commanding No. 4 Training Command, will be the inspecting officer. He is one of the highest ranking officials in Canada's Air Force, with many years of service to his credit. Air Vice-Marshal Howsam will be accompanied by several other officers from No. 4 Training Command, including P.L. Ewert, Command Cadet officer.

The cadets will first be inspected by the inspecting officers, after which they will carry out their ceremonial drill review and march past. Following this a demonstration of drill, first aid, signalling and aircraft recognition by the cadets will be given.

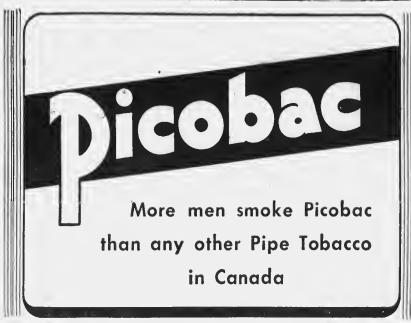

The Squadron trumpet band, under the direction of bandmaster W. J. Cousins, will be in attendance.

The local committee, officers and cadets of No. 73 Air Cadet Squadron invite the public to attend this demonstration. The cadet orderly room in the Big Corner Store will be open for inspection after the drill parade.

Warrant Officer Class 1 W. Borden is visiting the local air cadet squadron this week. Sergeant-Major Borden is senior drill instructor for No. 4 Training Command, RCAF.

The City Of London

THE CITY OF LONDON is frequently called "the heart of the Empire," and it is best known to the majority of people as the scene of many historic events, and as the home of the British Parliament. London is, indeed, a city of great historic interest, but it is also an important industrial centre, and a busy port. In the years before the war, the value of goods brought into Britain through the port of London, was greater than that brought into any other sea port in the United Kingdom. The city's industrial output was also great in the pre-war period, when it comprised almost one-quarter of the industrial production of the United Kingdom. A highly developed port and industrial city, London has also been known for centuries as one of the great financial centres of the world.

Plans Are Made For Rebuilding

The ancient "city" of London has its own corporate existence, dating from mediæval times. It has an area of only 677 acres and a population of about 9,000. This is the domain of the Lord Mayor, whose title originated in the year 1191. Around the "city" are grouped the various districts making up Greater London, which has a population of more than 8,000,000. The great industrial expansion of London in the last twenty years has given rise to many problems of housing, recreation and transport. Before the war, extensive measures were being taken to provide for reconstruction and development. Bomb damage has caused these projects to be greatly expanded, and much thought is now being put into plans for reconstruction.

History Rich In Tradition

From earliest times, London has been closely associated with the history of Britain and of the Empire. Most people of British origin like to think of it as a great centre of national culture, and to dwell on its association with the past. It has a history which is rich in tradition and, in spite of the heavy damage done by German bombs, most of its famous landmarks still remain. Its treasures in the realms of art and literature are also preserved for coming generations. However, the London of the future will be a city from which slum areas have been cleared, to be replaced by well-planned housing projects. Further industrial development is anticipated, and it is expected that the progress of the last twenty years will continue when the war is ended. Thousands of service men and women from Canada and other parts of the Empire, have visited London during the past four years and have come to know it well. We are living in a world of changing values and shifting political concepts, but when the war is ended, London will still remain "the heart of the Empire."

Consider The Onion

Scientists Discover That This Vegetable Is Good For You

It is odd that scientists have just got around to discovering what grandma knew 40 or 50 years ago—that onions are good for you.

The scientists have found in the onion what news despatches call a "mysterious bacteria-destroying substance" which operates in different fashion from other recently discovered substances.

This may have been a mystery to grandma, too, but sufficient for her was the knowledge that steak smothered with fried onions was better for her men folks than a visit to the doctor.

In recent years, with vitamins running from A to G in vogue, the onion has suffered from comparison with other vegetables. In any table of values it ranked far below such vegetables as kale and broccoli and carrots. Onions, it seemed, were long on flavor and short on vitamins.

The most recent discovery provides the explanation: the onion has been packed so full of valuable medicaments that there was no room for vitamins. —New York Sun.

There are only two large cities in Burma—Rangoon with 500,000 people and Mandalay with 163,000.

STEADY NERVES ARE A BIG HELP TO GOOD LOOKS!

How in the world can a woman have charm and poise if she feels "all wound up" with nervous tension? On the other hand, calm, strong nerves actually give a woman poise and quiet nerves take the hard, tense look from her facial muscles. If nerves bother, treat them with rest, wholesome food, fewer activities, plenty of sunshine and fresh air. . . . Dr. Miles Nervine. Nervine has helped scores of women who suffered from overtaxed nerves. Take Nervine according to directions to help relieve general nervousness, sleeplessness, nervous fears and nervous headache. Effervescent Nervine Tablets are 35c and 75c. Nervine Liquid: 25c and $1.00.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q—I had my dinner in a restaurant and when I asked for another order of butter they refused to give it to me. Is this right?

A—The restaurant was correct in refusing you. No second orders of butter, tea or coffee are allowed. Each person should have no more than three lumps of sugar upon request.

Q—I am enclosing ration book No. 4 which my son received when the new books were issued. He has now joined the army. Will I right in sending the book to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, or should I have sent it to his army headquarters?

A—Your son will not require this ration book in the army and you were quite correct in returning it. When he has leave, he will be issued special ration cards.

Q—My daughter was 12 years old one week after ration book No. 4 was distributed. How can I get tea and coffee coupons for her?

A—If she was 12 years of age on or before April 13th, the tea and coffee coupons should have been left in her book when issued. If they were removed we would advise you to get in touch with your Local Ration Board. However, any child who becomes 12 years of age after April 13th must wait until another ration book is issued to be eligible for tea or coffee coupons.

Q—Can a blacksmith raise the price of shoes from 25 cents to 30 cents and of a new shoe from 50 cents to 75 cents?

A—No, a blacksmith cannot legally increase his charges above the prices he charged for the same services during the basic period in 1941, unless he has received specific permission to do so.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices) mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Meet In Italy

Brothers From England Have Served In Widely Separated Places

A Shirley soldier now in the Middle East was riding on a truck down an Italian road when suddenly it came to a halt, reports the Birmingham Mail.

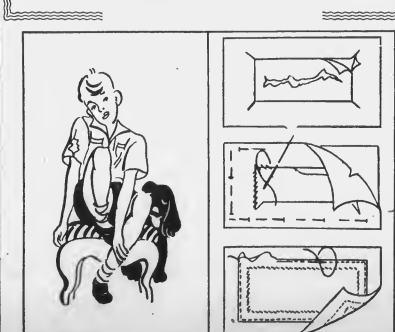

Another soldier on foot walked round to the back to investigate the truck's contents. "Eh, you," he said to the lolling Tommy, "move up there and let's see what you've got." Languidly the man in the truck turned round and then nearly fell out as he exclaimed:—"Good heavens, Norman, where did you spring from?" They were brothers. Their names are Sergeant Syd and Corporal Norman Roberts, of Cranmore Road, Shirley, serving with the R.A.S.C. The sergeant enlisted in January, 1940, and the corporal in September, 1939. The former was in France, Iraq, and Egypt before moving across North Africa and so into Sicily, while the other, after being posted to Egypt in 1939, saw service at El Alamein, Tobruk and Crete. They had not met since the outbreak of war.

VANISHING VITAMIN

The vanishing vitamin is "C." It's the delicate member of the family . . . when the heat's on it blows!

Take extra special care to keep brother "C" in good shape by not exposing him to heat for long. For instance when you add canned tomatoes or tomato juice to meat soup wait a short time before serving to do so.

IT'S WORTH A PATCH

The material around a tear is often so thin that a patch is better economy than a darn. Cut the fabric to a square or oblong with the thread and trim off in good shape by not clipping the corners so they may be turned under. Pin the patch material under the opening, matching the grain both lengthwise or crosswise. Turn under the raw edges of the hole and hem to the patch. Now turn on the wrong side, turn the edges of this patch under and sew it down to the garment.

Palace Of The Soviets

Largest Building In The World Will Be Erected In Moscow

The gigantic Pentagon building in Washington which houses a multitude of office staffs connected with the war effort is the subject of many jokes about people getting lost and search parties having to be sent out to look for them. It is the largest office building in the United States—and that doubtless means in the world—and the United States also boasts the tallest building in the world, which is the Empire State building. When the war is over the United States will lose both these distinctions. The huge Palace of the Soviets will be erected in Moscow.

The designer is not an American, nor a Russian. He is an Englishman, who happened to be working in the United States when he conceived the Premier Stalin's prize of about $7,000. He is back in London, where he has been the architect of many factories and large blocks of apartments. His name is Hector O. Hamilton, a native of Worthing, a little town on the English Channel. He is 40 years of age and the son of a doctor.

The Soviet Government placed no limit on the cost of the building, with the result that the competitors would give free play to their fancies. Mr. Hamilton's palace is designed to cost around $75,000,000, and covers an area of about 30 acres on the bank of the Moscow river. Its main feature is an auditorium seating 24,000 people and a smaller one of 6,000. It will measure 1,600 feet by 450, and will chiefly be supported on massive caissons with a diameter of 16 feet sunk 60 feet in the ground. It will be over 80 stories high, and have its own subway station on the ground floor. There will be 70 elevators and 16 escalators.

Over 1,000 architects in 70 countries competed for the honor. Mr. Hamilton completed his designs in six months, and when they were ready they were shipped to Moscow in a crate 15 feet long. At present he is designing war factories in Britain, and in his spare time he draws up plans for what he considers should be model British cities of the future. —St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Standard Equipment

Wheelbarrow Has Always Held An Important Place On Farm

Our favorite hardware store says that a boom in wheelbarrows is one of the encouraging signs of the times. It's a boom which has been growing since people gave up pleasure riding and began to discover the joys of working around one's home. A man needs a wheelbarrow.

A wheelbarrow is a simple piece of equipment: a box with removable sides, a wheel in front, and two shafts. But one can sense the epochal achievement of that day, centuries ago, when man first harnessed a single wheel to his use. It's always been a standard part of farm equipment, but now that some 20 million city, suburban, and town dwellers are co-operating in the Victory Garden program, the wheelbarrow is coming into its own as an important adjunct to home-centered urban living. Besides, think of the fun of giving Betty and Bobbie a ride to the garage when the work's done.—Christian Science Monitor.

SMILE AWHILE

"So you have married the queen of your heart?"

"Yes, and today she made the first speech from the throne."

"The new washerwoman has stolen two of our towels."

"The thief! Which ones, dear?"

"The ones we got from the hotel in Montreal."

Rookie—Do I get any choice of food here in camp?

Mess Sergeant—Sure do, buddy! Either you eat it or you don't.

Plump Girl—My mother says I'm growing beautiful.

Beate (responding her) — You mean beautifully.

Professor—Well, I hope that lesson is perfectly clear.

Student—Yes, clear as mud.

Professor (absently)—Well, that covers the ground.

"I hope, dear, that you get up when you are called," wrote the fond mother to her boy in the army, "and don't keep the regiment waiting breakfast for you."

Officer—What's the big idea? What are you men doing climbing trees and crawling through the bushes?

Private—Well, sir, we camouflaged the gun before lunch and now we can't find it.

Wife (having a tiff)—Anyhow you borrowed ten pounds from father the night you proposed.

Husband—Well, he looked so pleased when I asked him for you, that I simply couldn't resist it.

"Why didn't you interfere to stop the defendant when you saw the fight?" said the magistrate to a witness.

"I didn't know which was the defendant," the witness answered.

After a very thorough examination the army doctor eyed the tall and very thin recruit in silence.

"Well, doctor," said the recruit at last, "how do I stand?"

"Goodness knows," replied the M.O. "It's a miracle!"

Speaker—I have lived in this town all my life. By actual count there are 53 taprooms and saloons in the town, and I am proud to say I have never been in one of them.

Voice—Which one is that?

Neighbor (looking over garden fence): "Have your bees done well this year, Brown?"

Brown: "Well, they haven't given much honey, but they've stung my mother-in-law twice."

Travelling salesman—You make a small deposit, then pay nothing for six months.

A War Memorial

Church Of St. Clement Dances In London Seems Best Fitted

The following is from the Ottawa Journal's London Letter:

It will strike most people as a happy suggestion that London should follow the example of Plymouth and leave one of its blitzed churches as it stands by way of a memorial to German Kultur.

If the proposal is adopted, as it most likely may be, there are unfortunately only two many ruined churches from which to choose as this permanent reminder. But one that will appeal as the ideal memorial is surely St. Clement Dances, the charred and blasted stone shell of which stands gaunt and tragic near the Law Courts. St. Clement Dances is famous as one of "the island churches" of the Strand, and its bells in happier days used to play that favorite old nursery tune, "Oranges and Lemons," the refrain of which is believed to date right back to the era of Viking invasions, and the great battle which once raged in mid-Thames at old London Bridge.

In the tiny churchyard at the east end of the church, now heaped with tumbled masonry, stands the effigy of Dr. Samuel Johnson, tome in hand, amidst the roaring traffic of the Strand, which he always declared to represent "the high tide of London life." St. Clement's would certainly make the ideal memorial, but pity is that Dr. Johnson could not have composed, as only he could, a Latin tribute to Teutonic barbarism.

Work Just Started

Discoverer Of Penicillin Believes It Has Great Future

Penicillin will save more lives than the war will destroy, and by now can be produced in such quantity that it is going to become available to civilians. Dr. Alexander Fleming, its discoverer, believes many more important developments will come out of it, and that the work of penicillin has only just begun. He is quoted as saying, "It would be strange indeed if the first one discovered remained the best."

ADVOCATE A SYSTEM OF STATE MEDICINE INSTEAD OF THE HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM

OTTAWA.—Pensions Minister MacKenzie promised consideration would be given a brief presented by the State Hospital and Medical League of Regina, advocating establishment of a system of state medicine instead of the proposed national health insurance program.

The brief was presented by E. R. Powell, Regina, secretary, who said later that the minister failed to give the delegation any answer as to when the health insurance bill would become law. Saskatchewan members of parliament accompanied Mr. Powell and the league delegation.

The league wants:

1. Medical services be made accessible to all regardless of ability to pay.

2. Extension of municipal hospital schemes to include every area.

3. Establishment of well equipped clinics with trained staffs.

4. Grants to encourage provinces to take up the scheme.

Mr. Powell said the league opposed contributory health insurance and particularly the income tax feature through which individuals would be assessed on the amount of income they earned.

"We advocate state medicine with all health services on a salary basis," Mr. Powell said. "And we mean good salaries."

PRICE CEILINGS

Have Been Fixed For Canadian Grown Strawberries And Raspberries

OTTAWA.—The prices board announced that price ceilings have been established for Canadian grown strawberries and raspberries at a level which is below maximum prices paid by consumers last year but higher than 1942 prices.

It will be the first time these berries have been placed under a ceiling. Price schedules were not given.

The ceiling prices will apply from May 29 to Sept. 30, with seasonal reduction in strawberry prices to conform with the usual market drop when picking is at its peak. The order also applies to strawberries and raspberries imported from June 5 to Sept. 30, and puts them under the same ceiling as Canadian-grown berries in that period.

VOTE IN ICELAND

People Are 98 Per Cent. In Favor Of Forming Republic

REYKJAVIK, Iceland. Incomplete and unofficial returns indicated that Icelanders are 98 per cent. in favor of breaking with Denmark and forming a republic.

The althing, Iceland's parliament, already had voted to end 700 years of foreign domination, and the results of the referendum were never in doubt here.

The people probably will be proclaimed with a festival June 17, the island's national holiday. The first president will be chosen by the althing for one year, to be succeeded by a president elected for a four-year term by the people.

New Bomber Squadron Chiefs

—R.C.A.F. Photos.

Important changes in the command of three of the R.C.A.F. Bomber Group's hard-hitting squadrons overseas were announced recently. To succeed Wing Commander Baxter Richer, D.F.C., of Ottawa, as commanding officer of the famed French-Canadian squadron—the "Alouettes"—Wing Commander R. W. McLernon, left, of Montreal, has been named. W.C. Richer has been assigned to important new duties at R.C.A.F. Headquarters, while his successor was a flight commander with the same unit. W.C. McLernon had the unique experience of returning to operations a few months ago after a long period of being reported "Missing" following air operations, following an attack on a German

WHEAT SITUATION

Says Western Canada Now Holds The Spotlight

OTTAWA. Western Canada holds the spotlight in the world wheat situation at the moment, the Dominion bureau of statistics said in its monthly review of crop prospects.

A 40 per cent. reduction in the Canadian carry-over is in prospect for July 31, and the outcome of the 1944 wheat harvest is dependent almost entirely on rainfall received during the spring and summer months.

The bureau said production of an average crop in Canada's prairie provinces this year, together with the prospective carry-over at the end of July, would provide sufficient wheat for all purposes during the crop year 1944-45 and leave a sizeable reserve stock on July 31, 1945. A poor crop in 1944 would still permit large exports from Canada, but it might result in stocks declining below a desirable level by the middle of 1945.

The moisture situation has "definitely improved" during May, especially in Saskatchewan. Some areas of Manitoba, particularly the Red River valley, need much more rain, while sections of Alberta, partially relieved by recent rains, need further moisture.

Both Canada and the United States suffered from sub-normal rainfall last autumn. The winter wheat crop in the United States was seeded under unfavorable moisture conditions but spring rains have been bountiful and prospects for the 1944 winter wheat harvest now are bright. The official estimate of production, based on May 1 conditions, was 662,000,000 bushels, approximately 132,000,000 bushels more than was harvested in 1943.

Crops news from Europe, although sketchy, continues to reflect favorable conditions in most countries.

India's wheat crop now is estimated at 387,000,000 bushels compared with almost 410,000,000 bushels last year, while the wheat crop in New Zealand is reported to be 9,630,000 bushels compared with 7,400,000 bushels harvested a year ago. Australian and Argentine farmers are planting their new wheat crops, and in both countries an increase in acreage is expected.

NO COMPLAINTS

Government's System Of Hog Premiums Seems To Be Satisfactory

OTTAWA.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in the commons that no complaints had yet been received against the government's system of paying premiums on hogs.

Under the system, the government pays a premium of $3 on grade "A" hogs and $2 on grade "B". Previously packing plants paid a premium of $1 on select hogs, said Mr. Gardiner.

The minister said he believed the grading system was satisfactory throughout Canada. The grading was done by government inspectors target last summer. New commanding officer of the "Snowy Owl" squadron is Wing Commander G. A. McKenna (centre), of Ottawa, who until his promotion and appointment was a flight commander of that unit.

He succeeds Wing Commander Dan McIntosh, D.F.C., of Regina, who has been assigned to duties at Group Headquarters following completion of his operational tour. Wing Commander B. C. Hamber, (right), of Hamilton, Ont., has been promoted to that rank and given command of the Thunderbird squadron, succeeding W.C. W. H. Swetman, D.S.O., D.F.C., who has completed his second tour of operations. The new Thunderbird leader was formerly a flight commander of the "Moose" squadron.

TESTS FOR OIL FROM TAR SANDS IN NORTHERN ALBERTA WILL BE RESUMED IN NEXT FEW MONTHS

OTTAWA.—Experiments of oil from the tar sands along the Athabasca river in northern Alberta will be resumed within the next few months, Resources Minister Crerar said in the commons.

A separation plant is nearing completion near Waterways, Alta., and will be in operation by June 1, Mr. Crerar said during examination of an estimate of $145,000 set aside in his war appropriation estimates for development of the tar sands.

Development of the sands was still in the experimental stage. There were many problems to be solved before the exploitation of the sands could result in commercial success.

J. R. MacNicol (P.C., Toronto-Davenport) said he was not satisfied with what was being done to develop the tar sands. He did not favor a government plant for developing the sands.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE TO DEAL WITH THE MOST ACUTE LABOR SHORTAGE IN CANADA

OTTAWA.—National Selective Service has launched a three-way attack on the most acute manpower shortage Canada has yet faced, Arthur Macnamara, director of the National Selective Service, said in an interview with The Canadian Press.

The program designed to find men to fill essential jobs includes:

1. Personal interviews with men rejected as medically unfit for military service.
2. An on-the-spot survey of plants to combat hoarding.
3. Extension of compulsory transfer orders to industries now not affected.

"We estimate that of the 8,820,000 persons in Canada 14 years and over, 5,500,000 now are in the armed forces or gainfully employed," said Mr. Macnamara. "That is about 62 per cent. and it is just about as high as we can expect to go."

"The answer now is to make the best possible use of the people who are working. At the moment we need 175,000 workers to fill jobs in war plants and essential industries entirely apart from farm workers."

The plan of calling on men rejected by the army for individual interviews is being tried experimentally in Ontario—where the most acute labor shortages exist and in Winnipeg. It is expected it will later be extended to other centres.

Men who are found unfit for army service are required to notify the local selective service office of the job they now are holding. If it is not considered essential they may be called in for an interview with a view to putting them in some more useful employment.

"We have examined about 1,000 men for army service and roughly half of them have been unfit," said Mr. Macnamara. "We will have to depend on that pool of 500,000 to fill some of these jobs."

NARROW ESCAPE

The heavy explosive charge, placed in a German anti-tank gun, blew up less than 25 feet from Gen. Clark's jeep.

BACK IN BRITAIN, SAFELY TORONTO.—More than 300 British mothers and their children who left here recently to return to homes in Britain have arrived safely at their destinations. Security reasons prevented news of their departure until recently. Many of them had spent from three to four years in Canada.

SINKS NAZI CONVOY

British-American Force Destroys Six Ships In Mediterranean

WASHINGTON.—A German convoy of six ships loaded with ammunition and gasoline was destroyed in the Mediterranean by a British-American force after two American patrol torpedo boats took on a pair of German destroyers and lured them away from their protective positions, the navy disclosed. In the action last March, the navy said, the two small American boats raced at the destroyers and at 350 yards released torpedoes.

CREATION OF SUPER-CABINET MAY BE NEXT DEVELOPMENT IN PLANS OF ALLIED NATIONS

LONDON.—Formation of a tri-power "super cabinet" to deal with the international diplomatic problems of Britain, Russia and the United States may be the next development in plans to create, before victory, an international organization to keep the peace.

Supporting the possible creation of such an agency are these factors:

1. Information in high British quarters that the three nations are planning to get together soon to study the structure of a world organization.

2. Criticism in the press, congress and the house of commons over failure of the European advisory commission to handle efficiently such problems as the Italian political situation, relations with the French national committee and the Polish-Russian controversy.

3. Recommendations in some places that United Nations machinery must be established for quick co-ordinated action to deal with similar problems after the invasion.

4. Current consultations in Washington between President Roosevelt have been extended beyond initial intentions—plus the refusal of Presidential Secretary Stephen Early to confirm or deny that Winant will be given another assignment.

5. Reports from neutral sources that a three-way diplomatic shift in the United States set up is being planned, with Winant remaining in Washington, Harriman coming to London and possibly Sumner Welles taking over the Moscow post.

Creation of a tri-power cabinet would be in line with Prime Minister Churchill's recommendation in the house of commons for a "controlling council" of the greatest war victors, apparently to serve as sort of board of directors over a world organization which would have force to back up its mandates.

FOREST FIRES

Radio Equipped Fire Fighters In The Peace River Area

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C.—A remote-control receiver was under construction, three miles outside Prince George, as forestry officials worked to defeat a radio blackout and resume communication with wireless-equipped fire fighters in the Peace River area of northeastern British Columbia.

Fire fighters in the area east of the Rocky Mountains, where 70 major blazes were reported, are believed to have been assisted by some rain, but the extent of the downfall and the fires was unknown.

WAR GRAVES

Overseas War Graves Are To Be Permanent Possession

OTTAWA.—All necessary steps to ensure that land containing Canadian war graves overseas will be held, in perpetuity for the Canadian people were taken "long ago" by the federal government, the defence department has announced.

By agreement with the Imperial war graves commission, all such properties requisitioned during hostilities by the Canadian army will be acquired for permanent possession by the Dominion, the statement said.

BUENOS AIRES.—The newly opened Canadian books and picture exhibition was hailed by the influential newspaper La Prensa as an important step in the growing links between Canada and Argentina "which is promising to both countries."

Modern Hospital Car

Defence Minister Ralston accepted delivery at the Union Station, Ottawa, of the fourth hospital car built for the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps by the Canadian National Railways, and inspected it with a group of army railway officers. The car, air-conditioned, embodies several new features, and has accommodation for 28 patients. Ceiling lights may be switched on and off individually enabling attendants to deal with separate patients without lighting up the whole car. Floor lights which cast a diffused glow enable the car to be illuminated at night without disturbing sleeping patients. Reading lamps are installed at the head of each bed, and individual ash trays are provided for the patients. An improved system of continuous hot water supply is installed. Interior walls are painted sea green and the ceiling white. The floor covering is mottled rust marmaleum. The interior layout was designed by Col. E. L. Stone, medical adviser to the Directorate of Movement and Control and car experts of the C.N.R. at Montreal. Here is seen Hon. J. Ralston, right, looking through the interior of the car. Centre is Dr. K. E. Dowd, Montreal, Chief Medical Officer for C.N.R. and Trans-Canada Airlines and on the extreme left is G. McCredy, general foreman of the C.N.R. car shops at Montreal. It is expected the new car will be put into operation shortly.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line...

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money... and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales... with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher...

panicky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on...

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money... and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself... no matter what it cost in the long run... and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

THEN... THANK GOODNESS - I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable... where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm... and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

CONTAINERS FOR

WHAT IS WANTED

You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—store bags—cardboard—cartons—corrugated board—old magazines and books—envelopes and letters—newspapers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed Paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT

Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or sell it through any known trade channels, your pedlar, dealers or others. The important thing is your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PAUL IN EPHESUS

Golden Text: We are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus for good works, which God afore prepared that we should walk in them. Ephesians 2:10.

Lesson: Acts 19:1-20:1; Ephesians 3:14-19.

Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4:11-16.

Explanations and Comments

Paul Preaching at Ephesus, Acts 19:8-10. On his third missionary journey, Paul came to Ephesus and he followed his customary method of speaking first to the Jews, and then to the Greeks. For three months in the synagogue he reasoned and persuaded as he should walk in them. Acts 19:8-10. Paul was obliged to break with the Jews, leaving the synagogue for the lecture-room of Tyrannus, where many of them followed him. Tyrannus was probably a Gentile who had a school of philosophy. Paul may have seemed to the Ephesians to be one of the wandering professors of philosophy who were so numerous in the early Empire. In the lecture room of Tyrannus, where many of them followed him, Tyrannus was probably a Gentile who had a school of philosophy. Paul may have seemed to the Ephesians to be one of the wandering professors of philosophy who were so numerous in the early Empire. In the lecture room of Tyrannus, where many of them followed him, Tyrannus was probably a Gentile who had a school of philosophy. Paul may have seemed to the Ephesians to be one of the wandering professors of philosophy who were so numerous in the early Empire.

For two years Paul continued teaching in the school of Tyrannus, and "all that dwell in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and Greeks." Within easy reach of Ephesus were the other cities of the Roman Province of Asia (along the western shore of Asia Minor).

Read the account in Acts 19:21-41 of the uproar in the temple of Diana which made it necessary for Paul to leave Ephesus.

New Life in Christ, Ephesians 2:4-10. "But, dead in trespasses as we were, God was so rich in mercy that for his great love to us he made us live together with Christ (it is by grace you have been saved); together with Christ he raised and seated us with him in the heavenly sphere in Christ Jesus. For it is by grace you have been saved, as you had faith; it is not your doing but God's gift, not the outcome of what you have done—lest anyone should pride himself on that; God has made us what we are, creating us in Christ Jesus for the good deeds which are prepared beforehand by God as our share of action" (Moffatt).

PLAYING SAFE

Two British Army recruits met in the wet canteen.

"Where do ye come from?" one recruit asked.

"Lancashire," said the other.

"Lancashire?" exclaimed the first recruit. "By goom, lad, give me thi' 'and!" A hearty handshake followed. "Which part of Lancashire does tha come from?"

"Oldham."

"Oldham! By goom, lad, give me both thi' 'ands! The last man I met from Oldham pinched my watch."

Pleasure Trippers

Crowded coaches, men and women of the armed forces standing in the aisles and leaning against the seats; these are familiar sights on Canadian railways these days. After four and a half years of war, and when all facilities are strained to provide transportation for the invasion tools of war, unessential travel should be off the books. Passenger trains everywhere are overtaxed enough now with essential travellers, without having 'pleasure trippers' tagging along as well.—National Film Board photo.

Essential Factories

Established By British Women For Making Essential Parts

British women are establishing small essential factories all over Britain, modeled after the incendiary bomb factory of Mrs. Mary Channell, a young, attractive woman engineer. In Mrs. Channell's factory, a disused grocery store with assembly plant in a centuries-old priory, vital parts are made for aircraft and for the incendiaries the air forces are showering on Germany. Most of her 150 workers are over 60.

EGG RECORD

The production of eggs is at record levels in practically all provinces of Canada. Delivery of eggs to the Special Products Board are well ahead of any previous year. Total inspections made by the Board to the end of March, 1944, amounted to 25,414,470 dozen, as compared with 9,873,360 dozen for the corresponding three months of 1943.

TAMED IN EGYPT

The common cat is said to have sprung from the long-tailed wild cats of northern Africa and to have been first tamed and domesticated by the ancient Egyptians. The cat has been domesticated for so many centuries that its wild progenitor cannot be identified for certain.

Ration Controls

Restrictions Eased On Several Types Of Farm Machinery

Six types of new farm machinery and equipment have been removed from the ration list, it was announced by the price board.

Additional articles which now may be sold without permits are diamond harrow sections, flexible harrow sections, spring tooth harrow sections, cream separators, power sheep shearing machines and animal clippers, egg cleaners and brushes.

Increased production sufficient to meet demands were cited as reason for removal of ration controls.

How To Cut Bread So Loaf Will Be Kept Even

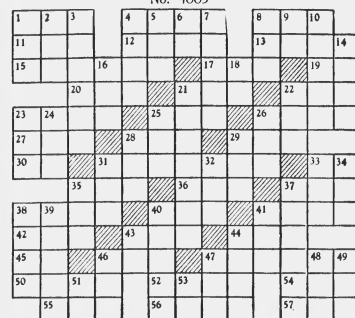

What a beating some loaves of bread take! Four slices off the end and they're as crooked as a snake fence. Try slicing evenly down to a thin crisp crust. Easy does it. Hold the loaf on its side... then with a sharp knife saw... don't cut. Watch the side toward you and if the slice is straight there the rest of the piece of bread will be too.

Saving Many Lives

Blood Plasma Gives Wounded Men Strength For Operation

An Associated Press despatch from an evacuation hospital in Italy, says: This is the shock ward of an emergency hospital where blood plasma is stacked like cordwood.

All through the day and night litter bearers have come in from the environs around Santa Maria Infante, scene of bitter fighting.

The litter bearers place the wounded on saw horses, such as carpenter's use, and when every inch of spare is crowded they spill over into adjoining wards.

When a man is hit he goes "in shock". His blood pressure falls and his pulse beat increases. Unless he can be brought out of the shock he can't survive an operation, and that is where plasma comes in.

You walk down the lengthening rows of white faces and wonder how they can pull through. Plasma does it. I saw a man from Ohio take 10 units of plasma and come back from the fluttery edges of death. Color flooded back into his face and his pulse fell almost to normal. Recovery now is almost certain.

MORE AND BETTER BACON

Not only will the numbers of hogs slaughtered in inspected plants in Canada in 1944 be by far the greatest on record, as a result of the hog premium policy early in 1944, but there will be a substantial increase in the percentage qualifying for the two premier grades, states the Current Review of Agricultural Conditions in Canada.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Hush Money

— By —
WILLIAM A. ROSSI

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

The silent house echoed the monotonous squeaking of Grandpa's rocking chair. He rocked thoughtfully, puffing viciously on his aged corn-cob. For the fifth time in the last hour he looked up at the cuckoo clock on the wall. He winced at the slow advancement of the hands. In another couple of hours the annual Bazaar would be over, and then there'd be a whole year until the next one.

"Dagnabbit!" Gramp growled to himself. "Emma's kids is old nought not to need someone to mind 'em of an evening."

Yet, as much as Gramp wanted to go to the Bazaar he knew that Emma had set her heart on it, too. Gramp's son in law, Henry, intended to stay home, but at the last minute he called to say that he had to work overtime. Gramp took one look at Emma's expression of disappointment and grumped that he'd stay.

"If you don't intend to keep your word," Emma said, "let me know right now. You know how the neighbors complained about the children's howling last week when we stepped out and left them alone in the house for only a few minutes."

"Dagnabbit!" Gramp spumed. "When I was their age it didn't bother me none to be left alone in the dark. These fraidy-cat kids nowadays—"

"I'll stay home, then," Emma said with a suffering sigh. "Hush up and off with you!" Gramp snapped, unable to bear his daughter's look of martyrdom. And in fifteen minutes Emma was off.

The first hour was easy. Bazaars weren't so important, anyway. Gramp kept telling himself. Besides, it was the same thing year after year. With the second hour, however, he began to reflect upon the past. The fun of poking around through the booths, the concert, the door prize, and the various catches that deepened the laugh wrinkles around Gramp's merry old eyes.

When the cuckoo derisively popped out at nine thirty Gramp jerked up with defiance and wobbled about the room until his rheumatic joints guaranteed stability. He started to get his coat and hat from the closet when he heard a wail from upstairs.

He huffed and stamped an irate foot on the floor. Well, maybe it was just as well. If Emma saw him at the Bazaar she'd have a fit; probably make a scene in front of everyone.

Fifteen minutes more of waiting and Gramp's resigned attitude had once more been discarded. Caution was with the winds now. Besides, in that crowd Emma would never see him. Just a few minutes of poking around—for old times' sake. Gramp had his hat and coat on now. And then that wail again.

"Dagnabbit!" he growled, his glance wavering between the front door and the upper story. The noise increased. Gramp slammed down his hat with another "Dagnabbit!" and went upstairs. Five minutes later he came down again and donned his crumpled felt hat, a mischievous grin on his face. He tiptoed from the silent house.

Gramp hought his Bazaar ticket and received his door-prize stub. He cautiously peeped into the main hall. Soon he spied the flaming red hat that belonged to Emma. Gramp chuckled, then slunk around to the opposite side of the hall.

The next half hour was a simple man's paradise for Gramp. It was good to see old faces, familiar exhibits and hear laughing chatter. Nothing really exciting, but good wholesome fun.

And then the hall was suddenly hushed as a man's voice came through the microphone on the stage. The door prize, Gramp hadn't given it any thought, so absorbed had he been. He stood up, and located the red hat again. He chortled to himself, for he was successfully keeping safe distance between himself and Emma. He'd leave shortly, getting home just before her. Everything was going smoothly.

The man called out a number. No one answered. He called it again. Gramp casually extracted his stub from his pocket, keeping one eye on Emma. Then Gramp glimpsed at the number on his stub. He blinked, for he wasn't sure what number had been called. The man waited impatiently a second, then announced the number once more. Sure enough, Gramp had it.

He squirmed miserably. If he answered the call it meant Emma's nagging wrath for weeks. And if he kept quiet the door-prize would go elsewhere. The man on the stage started to reach in for another number.

"I got it!" squealed Gramp. He fought through the crowd toward the stage. He could feel Emma's eyes on him, could even hear her unspoken words whinnying against his eardrums.

"Fifty dollars to the lucky man!" the announcer cried over the applause. He handed five crisp tens to Gramp.

Gramp came down from the stage. Emma stomped up to him. "So!" she heaved.

Gramp was quick on the draw. He peeled off a ten-spot and thrust it at her. "Here!"

"Wh-whats that for?" she gasped, a bright beam softening her anger. "Hush money."

Emma took it with pleased bewilderment, then glowered again. "But the children—they're probably howling at home. And no one there to hush them."

"Took care of that, too," Gramp replied quickly. "Gave 'em each a dime before I left. Hush money."

The gambler turned out to be a mighty good investment, he chuckled, and disappeared in the crowd.

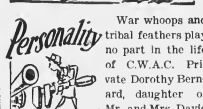

BEWARE OF JUNKERS

A disarmed Germany will be harmless for a long time. But it will require the most stringent policing and supervision of Germany to watch these under-cover Nazi movements. In 1919 the French statesman Clemenceau said: "Beware of these Junkers; they will cheat you yet." We shall have to beware of these Nazis or they will cheat us yet.

VITAL TO LIFE

A starving animal can live after a loss of nearly all its fat, one-half of its protein, and a great portion of its body weight, but a loss of only one-fifth of the water of the body is fatal.

Here a CWAC There a CWAC

War whoops and tribal feathers play no part in the life of CWAC. Private Dorothy Bernard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bernard of St. John, N.B., despite the fact that she admits proudly that she is a full-blooded Iroquois Indian. Grand daughter of a chief, Dorothy is sure that she has lived a quiet, regular Canadian life. She is a graduate of a business college in Moncton, N.B., and worked as a secretary before her enlistment in March, 1944. When asked if her family had any particular tribal customs, Dorothy paused for a minute and then said, "I had a bear once. But Mother wouldn't let me keep it."

"We're so normal," she sighed.

Fashion—

All in all the CWACs seem pretty satisfied with their "Khaki" honnets. Pictures of the latest Paris models shown in British newspapers elicited merriment and scorn from Miss Canada Overseas. Paris pointed out to its German captors that the well dressed Parisienne may still carry on her head "flowers, birds, spring and the blue skies" but—"It would take more than Germans to make me wear that horticultural exhibit" giggled one irreverent CWAC.

"Give me a number from Eaton's catalogue" volunteered another, and all agreed, "When we see these, we're glad we're in the CWAC."

Reunion—

Mother has followed her sons to the battle front. Pte. Minnie Howe, C.W.A.C. of Winnipeg, at present stationed at Canadian Military Headquarters, London, England, was the third member of her family to cross the Atlantic in this war. Her sons, Harry, and Jimmy are both with the Canadian Army. A fourth member of the fighting family, June, is with the C.W.A.C. in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Howe is a cook, and the Army is blessed, but the little family looks forward to the day when "Ma can bake an apple pie"—for four.

Travel

"The thumb is mightier than the arch" is an adage that has been adopted by Cpl. Molly Engler, C.W.A.C. of Invermere, B.C. Reputed to be the most widely travelled member of the Corps, Molly gave truth to this adage in 1939 when she embarked on a hitch-hiking tour that carried her so far off the tourist path that the sight of a European was a novelty. A member of the C.W.A.C. since, 1943, Molly received her education in Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, France and Italy. She has spent time in every country of Europe and has visited extensively in North Africa. She is now employed at National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa.

Total War Family—

The Canadian family Robinson of Comox, Que., is as versatile as its Swiss counterpart—witness its "all out" war effort. Pearl and Bernice are a driver and clerk respectively with the C.W.A.C. Margery is a Nursing Sister, and brother W. T. Robinson is in the Merchant Marine. Not to be outdone, Mother and Dad are busy with volunteer activities on the home front.

INVISIBLE WIRE

Invisible platinum wire, so fine only its shadow can be seen, is being used experimentally in the General Electric Company's laboratory. The wire is 13,000,000ths of an inch thick. Approximately 25,000 strands would be needed to equal the cross-sectional area of a human hair.

"Please, Joachim, read that passage from 'Mein Kampf' once more!"

Great Help To Doctors

Many Volunteers Endured Torture To Make Pain Map Possible

Twenty-six physicians, medical students and nurses who voluntarily endured having their flesh and bones pierced by drills and needles without benefit of anesthetic have made possible a pain map of the arms and legs.

The map helps doctors locate the point of origin of many undiagnosed pains. Often the hurt may be stopped quickly by a local anesthetic which hits squarely the centre of irritation.

Most painful operation in the map making was the drilling of the bones with a diamond-pointed shaft about the diameter of a darning needle. The pain was greatest as the diamond point passed through the thin membrane surrounding the bone. Least painful was the pushing of needles through the muscles.

The volunteers not only had to endure the pain but also to describe it accurately enough so it could be evaluated by others and charted. They broke into sweats. Their faces blanched. Some were nauseated. Some required medical attention for a couple of days thereafter.

The work was done by Dr. Verne T. Inman and Dr. J. B. de C. Saunders of San Francisco. Pain which originates deep in the flesh, or next to the bones, apparently radiates far up and down the arm or leg, sometimes the full length.

The arm may become sore from wrist to shoulder from a needle-point injury.

The map shows five long, irregular wedge-shaped areas of the arm and six in the leg. A deeply seated pain, Inman and Saunders report, is likely to radiate only within the particular area of its origin. The chart thus helps the physician to locate the origin, much as a national map with state boundaries simplifies the location of state points.

Finance Minister's Statement About Sugar For Canning Is Explained

In explanation of the statement made recently by Finance Minister Islay in Ottawa that 23 pounds of sugar would be available for canning for each person in a household, this special includes not only canning sugar but sugar which may be obtained with the "D" preserves coupons.

Ten pounds of sugar will be available by using the first 10 "E" coupons in the old ration book, five of which may be used after May 25, the other five after July 6. There will be no expiry date on these coupons. Thirteen pounds of sugar, to make up the total 23, may be obtained with the "D" preserves coupons, if these coupons have not already been used to purchase canned fruits and preserves. If a person uses the "D" coupons to buy preserves, then they cannot be used for sugar. But the overall total of sugar which could be bought is 23 pounds.

Surplus For Export

Arrangements Made To Send Canadian White Beans To Britain

Arrangements have been completed for export to Britain of the 1944 crop surplus of Canadian white beans, the special products board announced. The export price will be based on a price of $3.00 per bushel to the grower for No. 1 beans. This will mean that beans exported will be worth 50 cents a bushel more than beans sold at prices established for the domestic market. It is hoped to provide at least 500,000 bushels for the export market.

NOW - VITAMIC RUBBER

FIRESTONE'S GREATEST CONTRIBUTION TO LONG TIRE LIFE AND MILEAGE

Firestone, pioneers of the balloon and high-speed tires, now make another contribution to advanced motoring... VITAMIC RUBBER... for longer tire life and mileage.

It is a well-known fact that adding small amounts of metals, such as chromium and tungsten, to steel greatly increases the strength and durability of the alloy produced.

In a similar manner, it has been found by Firestone research that the intimate mixing of rubber of small amounts of a new scientific discovery, "Vitelin," imparts long-sought properties to the rubber. As in the alloy steel, the new rubber compound... VITAMIC RUBBER... is greatly improved in strength, wear-ability, and resistance to heat and aging.

All Firestone tires are now made with Vitamic Rubber. This added extra value, together with Gum-Dipping and Safety Locked Cord, is all the more reason why you should insist on Firestone tires when you obtain a Tire Ration Permit.

VITAMIC RUBBER is produced by adding Vitelin when the rubber is compounded. It gives extra protection against weather checking and wear, thus keeping the rubber tough and lively.

Hard To Sort Out Will Be Appreciated

Nations Seem To Be Slightly Mixed In This War

The Empire Digest offers the following information: There are now 33 United Nations and nine Axis Nations.

Germany is the only Axis Nation at war with all 33 United Nations. None of the United Nations is at war with all nine Axis Nations.

Australia is the only United Nation to declare war on Vichy France. The Fighting French are at war only with Germany and Japan.

India and Norway are at war only with Germany.

Brazil, India, Norway, Greece and Russia are the only United Nations not at war with Japan.

The United States is at war with Albania, but not Finland; Great Britain with Finland, but not Albania. Thus, although the United States and Great Britain are both fighting eight out of the nine Axis Nations, there is a difference in which ones.

FRUSTRATED

A great nerve specialist was placed next to a talkative and inquisitive maiden lady, who bored him excessively with her questions.

"Tell me, won't you, what was your greatest ambition as a child, and have you attained it?" she asked.

The specialist looked at her sadly, and said: "Madam, I regret to say I have never attained my boyhood ambition."

"And what was it?"

"Madam, my great ambition was to throw an egg into an electric fan!"
